

The pier, where the fishermen work, and where the victim's body was found. He could have died there, and had his killer attempt to hide his body in a boat afterwards.